Riskified Named to the CNBC World's Top Fintech Companies 2026 List

July 23, 2026

Payment category recognition marks Riskified's continued presence among the world's leading fintech innovators

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 23, 2026-- Riskified (NYSE: RSKD), a global leader in ecommerce fraud detection and risk intelligence, has been named to CNBC's World's Top Fintech Companies 2026 list, in the Payments category. The list, now in its fourth edition, is produced by CNBC in partnership with Statista Inc., the global statistics and industry ranking firm. It was announced on July 22, 2026, and is available on CNBC's website.

This is Riskified's second time making the list. The company previously earned this recognition in 2024, reinforcing its position in the ecommerce fraud and risk intelligence sector and underscoring its ongoing success in empowering businesses to grow revenue and profitability by mitigating risk through its AI-powered platform.

CNBC and Statista's ranking covers the top 500 companies across eight fintech segments — Payments, Neobanking, Alternative Financing, Wealth Technology, Digital Assets, Enterprise Fintech, Insurtech, and Regtech. Companies are scored using an aggregated model that weighs overarching and segment-specific KPIs.

"It's an honor for Riskified to be recognized by CNBC as a World's Top Fintech Company," said Eido Gal, CEO & Co-founder of Riskified. "This recognition reflects our team's continued focus on helping ecommerce merchants increase approvals and revenue while staying ahead of increasingly sophisticated fraud and abuse. We remain committed to delivering advanced risk intelligence solutions that safeguard online transactions and drive better business outcomes."

Riskified's vision is to build a safer ecommerce world through the power of AI. Founded over a decade ago as ecommerce began to scale globally, the company pioneered a data and machine learning approach to fraud prevention as online commerce and fraud both accelerated. Today, Riskified's risk intelligence platform powers solutions that fight fraud and policy abuse at scale and provides real-time decisions that enable merchants around the world, such as Finish Line, Rue Gilt Groupe, TickPick, TicketNetwork, and Gametime, to win more customers, approve more orders, and retain more revenue.
